EAST HI

I SCHOOL Norma K. Peirce

Dear Kate:

It has been 18 months since I first met you, and I can say I have really enjoyed every minute of it. I only hope I know you for a long time to come. I'm the happiest part of my life. You have made me happier and successfully, and I wish you success in picture life. I hope have a happy and everlasting marriage, (with lots of kids).

Forward

This is your book! You are the characters who have played such an important role in the "Story of the Year."

This is East High School in 1947! The outstanding moments of the year have been recorded with word and photographic accuracy.

This is the result of a year's work by the Eastonian staff! If the book is informative, and proves to be an entertaining and pleasant memento of an enjoyable year, it will have fulfilled the staff's highest ambitions.

Dear Norma,
I wish I had your personality
I would really have something. Best of luck to a real cute little gal.

To East High School

To East High School, Brave and True, Our Voic-es now we raise,
o-ver all the cit-y wide, in mel-o-dies of praise;
Ev-er fore-most in the fray, may she al-ways stand, guard-ed loy-al — ly and well, by our faith-ful band.
So let us fight, fight, fight for dear East High, the name we all re — vere, And let us fight, fight, fight, fight; ev-'ry one, So give a rous-ing Rah Rah Rah we yell, we yell for East High School we love so dear, then let the cho — rus swell, For her fair fame we'll spread the name of dear EAST HIGH.

Dedication

A pair of shiny new skates, a whistling yo-yo, an ice cream cone on a hot afternoon—these are the wants of a child. As he grows older, his desires change—a crisp new book, a good mark in math, a score of friends.

When he enters high school, his wants are greatly influenced by the "around-the-clock" activities, and he works toward higher goals—a college campus, a successful career, a brotherhood of man in a peaceful world.

These are but a few of the ideals of youth in this atomic age. It is to these hopes and plans of the young Americans of today, which must lead to an informed and determined citizenry of tomorrow, that we dedicate the 1947 Eastonian.

To the Class of 1947

Another school year is rapidly drawing to a close and again we are approaching commencement. This means that the Senior Class of 1947 will soon leave East High School for other fields of endeavor. This year's class has proved its worth in scholarship and citizenship, and we are proud of you. Needless to say, we will miss you.

Many of you have expressed your desire to continue your education in college while others plan to go into the world of business and industry. Whatever you do, one of your chief tasks is to search for what the world most needs you to do. You must commit yourself to a clear understanding of your world and prepare yourself for your part in it. You must help the world to live, not only materially, but in beauty, friendships, and intellectual satisfactions in life. In this way, you will live your best and your lives will take on new values.

Our best wishes for your future successes and happiness.

Sincerely,

C. O. Williams

Vice-Principal

Mr. Broadlick is probably the most "known" man in East high school, because in the capacity of vice-principal his duties are so varied.

All of the extra-curricular activities, including literary and departmental clubs, are under the supervision of this capable executive.

The vice-principal acts as adviser of the junior and senior classes, and comes into contact with class organizations. He supervises all activities of both classes, including the graduation of the seniors.

Mr. Broadlick's familiar "O.K. J. N. B." in the traditional red ink may be found on most everything from an important notice for the bulletin to a literary society's slam song. His doors are always open to help students and teachers with their school problems.

In short, it is Mr. Broadlick who sees that the mechanics of the school run as smoothly as possible, and we are deeply indebted to our hard-working vice-principal.

Mr. John N. Broadlick, Vice-Principal

Student Counselors

At the beginning of the second semester, the students of East High School lost a good friend and gained another. Miss Maude Mueller, counselor, was transferred to Southeast High School, and Miss Anna Stewart came from Manual High School to assume the duties of the student adviser.

This Is Our Story from Beginning to End — The Class of 1947

In September of 1943, Allied troops crossed the Messina Straits and landed in Italy. We had passed from grade school into our first year of high school. In a short while the Italian government accepted Allied surrender terms, and we resigned ourselves to school. General Eisenhower was appointed Supreme Allied Commander for the invasion of Europe, as we launched the attack on a new semester of school work. The devastation of war was brought closer to German soil when Berlin was bombed in its first big daylight raid. We ourselves realized that misfortune would fall upon us if those grades weren't improved.

In the late spring of '44, the Germans abandoned Rome to the Allies, and we willingly gave up school books for baseball bats. During the summer vacation, we hoed, weeded, and watered victory gardens. We were not only helping to increase the food supply, but were benefiting ourselves by this healthful outdoor exercise.

We entered our sophomore year in September of 1944, as the British entered Antwerp. The Finnish-Russian armistice was signed, and we stopped fighting the idea of another school year. In connection with our school activities, we were collecting scrap paper, metal, old clothes, and we were filling boxes to cheer our soldiers and the unfortunate people of other countries. We cooperated in all the jobs necessary for the all-out war effort. The Big Four, Stalin, Churchill, Roosevelt, and Chiang Kai-Shek met in the Dumbarton Oaks Conference to draw up the first blueprint for the world security league. This international blueprint is now forming the pattern for the future of our individual lives.

In the fall of 1944, President Roosevelt was re-elected as President of the United States. He was the first man to fill this office for a fourth term, but the excitement caused by this was replaced by sorrow. President Roosevelt died a short while later, and the whole nation mourned his passing. He was the only president we could remember. When he left, something went out of our own lives. We were affected by a personal loss which made us realize that we were passing from childhood into a more serious world.

Hitler and Mussolini were killed, but we didn't cheer. The world was rid of two men who symbolized the forces of evil. So many men had died to wipe out this evil that we could only be quietly thankful. The Russians took Berlin, and VE Day, Victory in Europe, was celebrated. Joy and happiness for the end of the war were mingled with tears and sorrow for those who did not see the victory. In early summer, Churchill resigned from the office of Prime Minister of England, and we departed from school to enter summer activities.

During the summer of 1945, the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan, and this was followed by the Japanese surrender on the battleship U.S.S. Missouri. Most of the soldiers were coming home now, except those in the occupation forces.

The atomic bomb was being further developed and tested. This question faced the world, "Would the Bomb be used to benefit or maim all mankind?" All the experiences of our last two years had formed a part of the pattern for our characters and personalities. The two years which we were entering now would almost seal the mold of our future lives. The question which faced us individually was, "Would our mold be marred or perfect?" No matter how dark the night, the light of day always breaks through to us. It is not human nature to live in doubt and worry, when much happiness can be found in enjoying life itself. Although we were teen-agers, we were still human, and this theory applied to us, too. The highlight of the spring was the Junior Prom, which was held for the first time in five years.

We entered our last year in school two weeks late because of the poliomyelitis epidemic. This was our senior year in high school! The Four Freedoms had been fought for again. In some cases freedom of speech and freedom of religion have been partially gained. However, freedom from want has not been won. Today, many people are starving, and will be faced with more starvation. Freedom from fear has not been won. The question of atomic power hangs over us all. It is up to us, who have Christian educations, to aid in deciding the questions in a way which will completely win the Four Freedoms. This Class of '47 has made its history in East High School and its members will help to formulate the history of the world to be.

The National Honor Society

To become a member of the National Honor Society is the highest award that any high school student may receive. This spring, as in every spring since 1928, when East's chapter of this national organization was founded, approximately fifteen percent of the senior class received this distinction. The members were chosen by the faculty for their excellence in studies, and their outstanding ability in extra-curricular activities during their four years.

It all began when, as freshmen, they witnessed their first National Honor Society assembly. They discovered that these seniors were being honored for their high scholastic ratings. Then, they recognized that all the members were those to whom they had looked as their leaders. They had discovered the first two principles for which the society was founded—"Scholarship" and "Leadership." A vow was made then, that when they were seniors, they would be one of those to receive the small pin with the torch and scroll, emblems of the society.

During their sophomore year, these students viewed another award assembly. This time, since they were older, they realized that those who became members were not only good students and leaders, but that they possessed that something which was called "character." They became aware of the fact that these qualities were not selfishly hoarded, but were used in service to others. These, then, were the four principles governing the election of the members—"Scholarship," "Leadership," "Character," and "Service." Again the vow was made that when they became seniors, they would be among those honored.

As juniors, their interest was even more intense as they watched their friends making out activity cards, having them signed by faculty advisers, and then submitting them to the faculty committee, composed of Miss May Farr Hiatt, Miss Evelyn Gilchrist, Mr. John N. Broadlick, Mr. Ralph Tiefel, and Mr. Paul Day. They were thrilled to think that next year, they would be the ones who would do these things.

At last on May 8, 1947, their fondest hopes were realized. On that day, they, too, marched down the aisle, across the platform, to receive the small pins with the scroll and torch, and the four letters symbolizing the four principles. They had reached their goal.

These students became members of the 1947 chapter of the National Honor Society.

Home Rooms—Training for Citizenship

We practice democracy! The Student Council, the governing body of our school, is made up of representatives elected by the students of the home rooms. In this way each individual has a voice in the affairs of our school.

One of the busiest periods of the entire day is that which follows the first hour in the morning. In this short fifteen-minute period, all the business affairs of a large high school are transacted. Fees are collected, charity contributions are made, and tickets are purchased. The sales managers of the home rooms are to be praised for the good work they do in taking care of this important school business. Those serving in this capacity for the first semester were: Bill Bauman, Carol Bleistein, Norma Jean Cleland, Gene Collins, Virginia Crosby, Shirley Dunphy, John Esther, Jeannette Evans, Edna Funk, Don Ganzer, Laura Green, Lavonne Hales, Betty Harris, Norma Harper, Alice Heckart, Mary Hougland, Don Howey, James Johnson, Frances Jones, Marjorie Jones, Bill Kauffman, Bert Larkin, Bill Little, Ralph Love, Jeanne Hahaney, Betty Mais, Joanne Mauk, Charles McCormick, Robert McCurley, Jim McNamara, Maxine Miller, Dollie Naylor, Fern Nelson, Ronald Newsome, Georgiana Nie, Howard Paris, Howard Reid, Freddie Sears, Shirley Shepherd, Richard Simpson, Bob Shaffer, Freddie Slocum, Frances Smith, Dolores Stewart, Joyce Stanton, Bob Toler, Tommy Vincent, Dalbert Wieligman, Erlene Wheeler, Milton Wallace, Charles Yoeman.

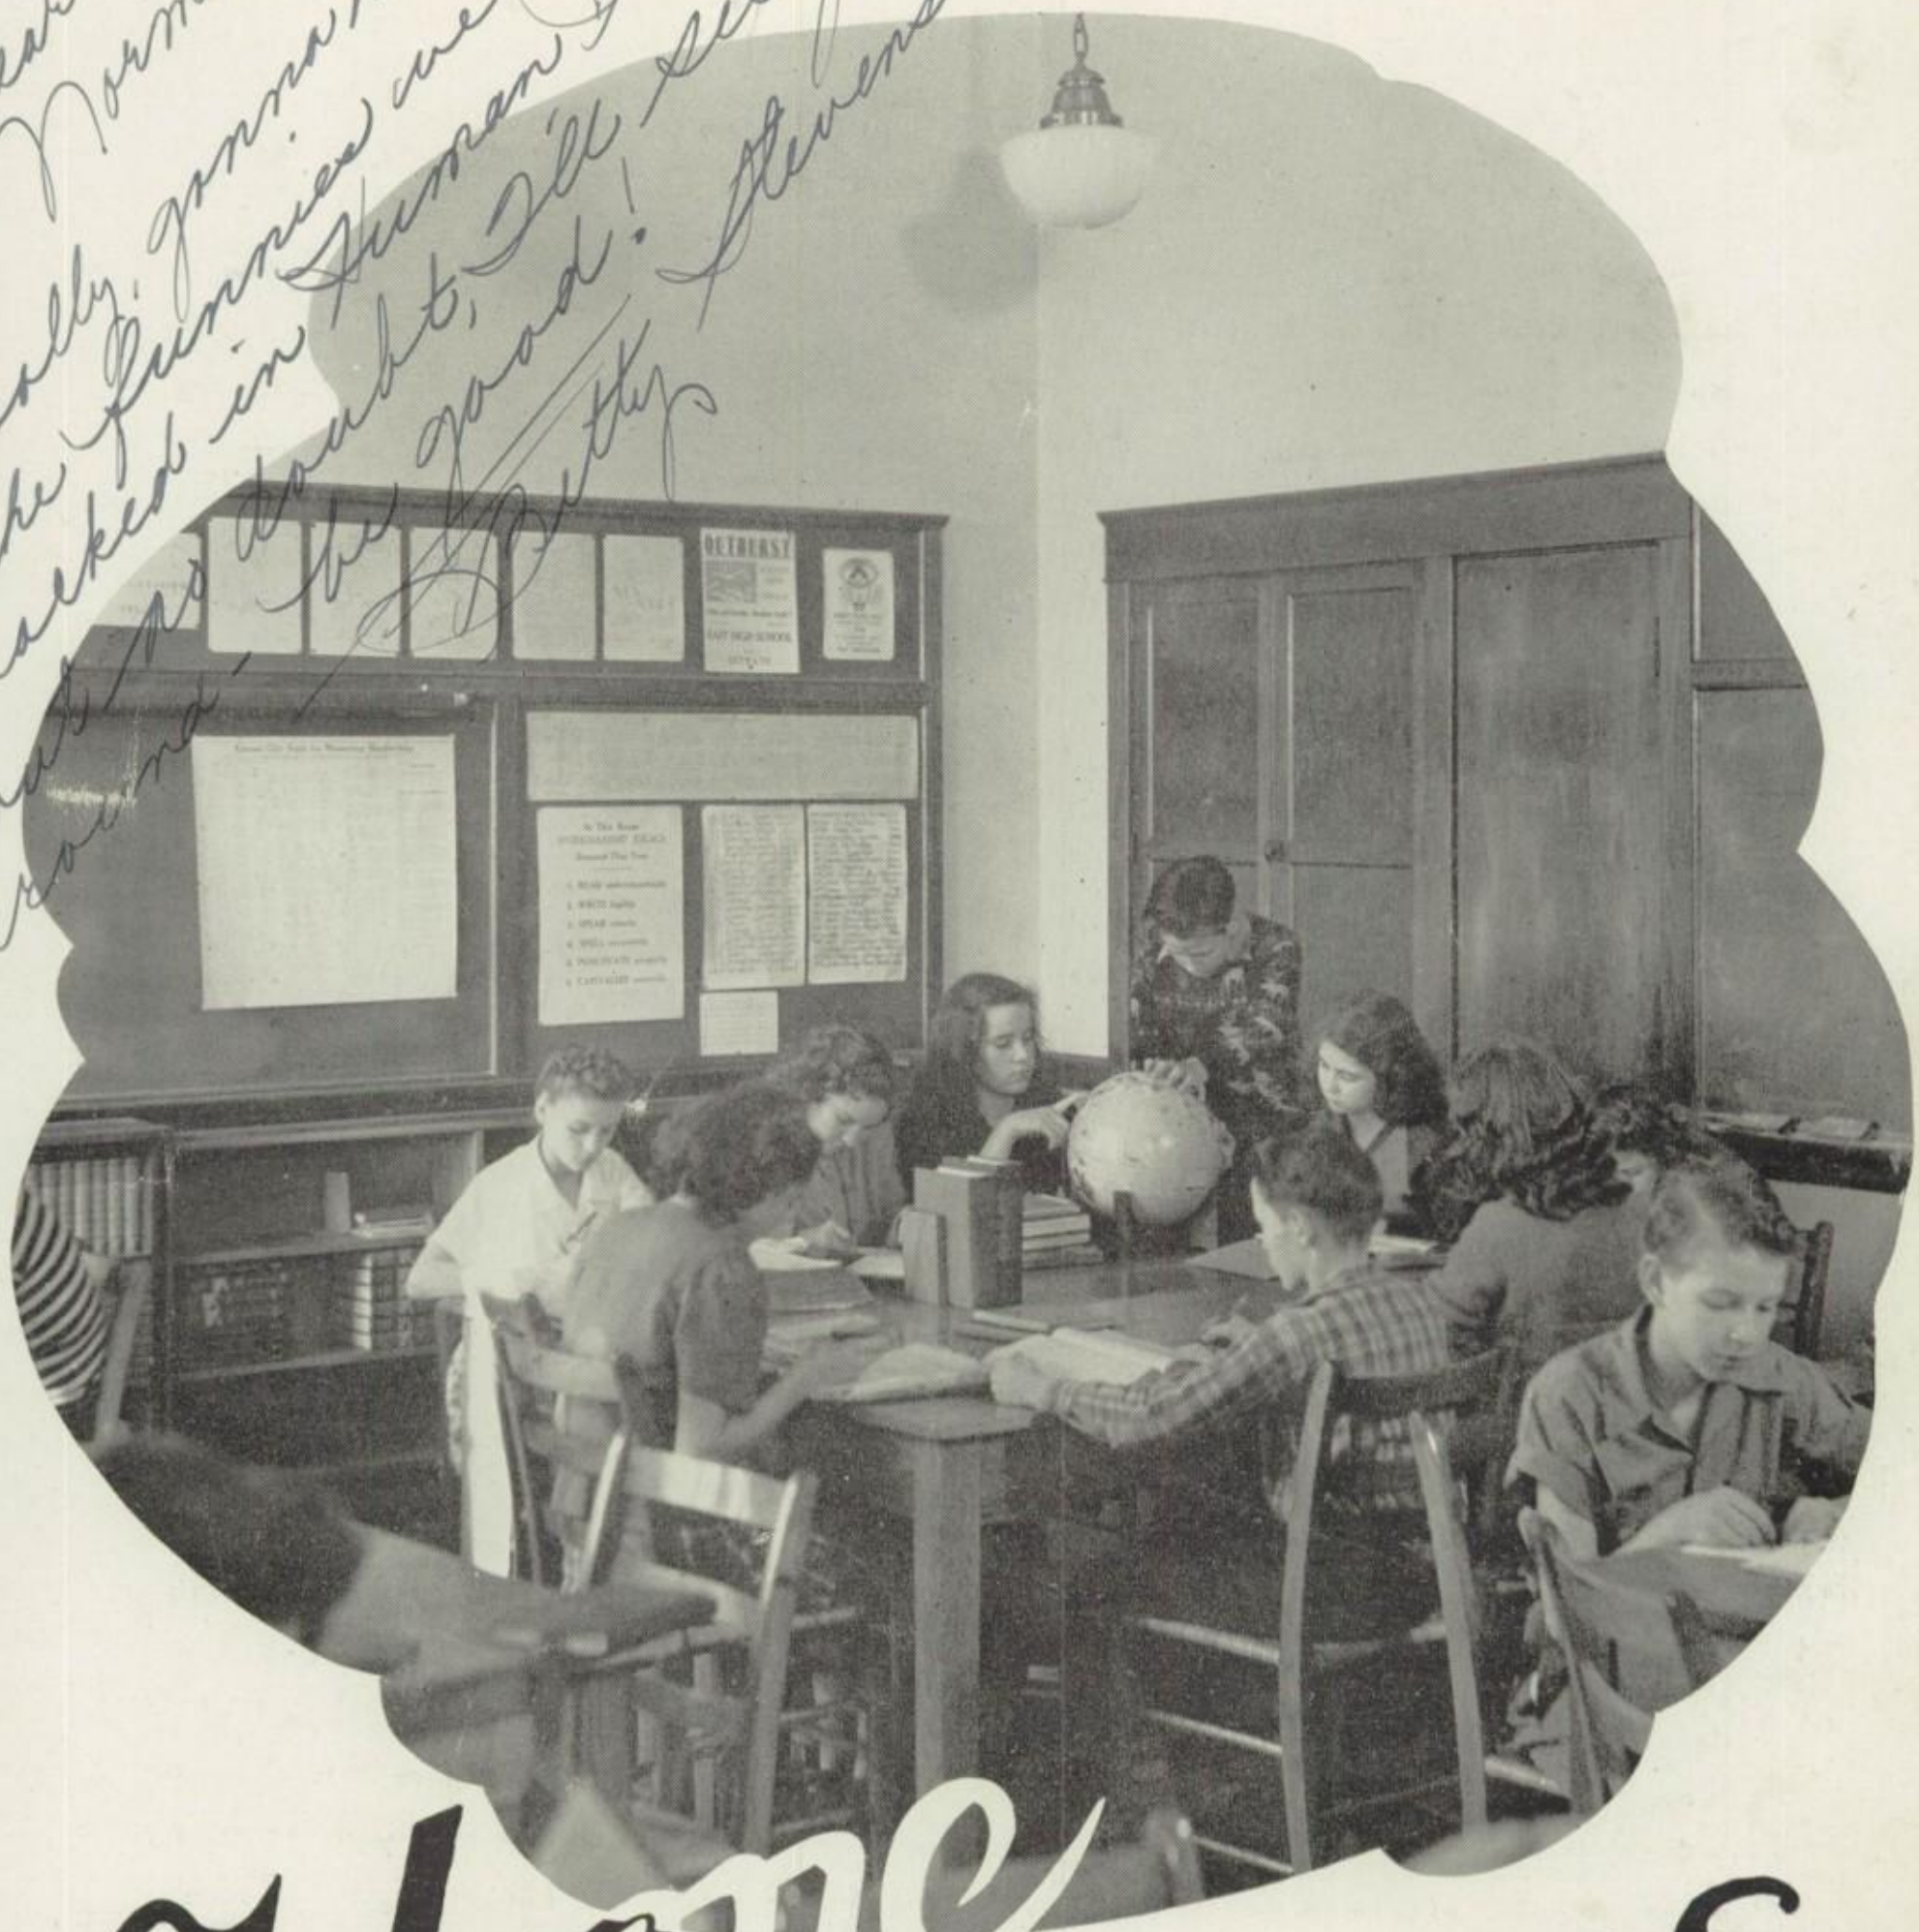
The business staff, under the direction of Miss Minnie Baker, takes care of the money turned in by these sales managers. Richard Fisher has been the efficient student business manager. It is a job which requires mathematical accuracy, responsibility, and honesty. Sales managers and business staff are to be complimented on their faithful performance of responsible work.



Dear Norma,
Golly, you've miss the funnies we've packed in Human Science but no doubt, I'll see ya around - be good!

Cooperative Occupational Education

The Cooperative Occupational Education program provides actual on-the-job training for high school students in cooperation with business and industrial employers. Approximately one-half day is spent in classroom study, and the other half day, or a minimum of fifteen hours per week, is devoted to work experience. This type of program enables the pupils to develop skills, to obtain essential information, and to make a practical application of their studies.

There are qualifications for enrollment in this course. The student must be sixteen years of age. He must have a satisfactory school record, and he must be willing to cooperate with the rules and regulations of the course. The approval of the parent or guardian and the principal must be obtained.

The program at East has developed from a mere experiment into a successful plan for training on the job for those enrolled in it. Enrollment increased from twenty in last year's program to fifty-eight, this year.

The Andrew Drumm Institute

In 1928, the Andrew Drumm Institute, an endowed institution, was founded for boys of good moral character, to enable them to receive a normal education and training for good citizenship. Its founder was Andrew Drumm, 1828-1919. The present Superintendent is H. R. Nelson.

The 370 acre farm is located two miles southeast of Independence, in Jackson County, Missouri. At the present time, thirty-one boys, ages ranging from ten to nineteen, live in a modern fireproof home, help cultivate the farm land, care for the livestock, and attend school both in Kansas City and at the Institute.

The majority of the Drumm Institute boys are of high school age and attend East High School. They receive three-fourths of the regular high school course. Those attending East this year are: Bill Edmonston, Warren Patton, William Richards, Laurice Smith, John Strong, Roy Turner, Ralph Peck, Tom Peck, Seth Eberhart, John Bailey, Robert Martin, Jack McCulley, and Tom Conroy.

They attend morning classes at Kansas City schools, those under high school age go to Bristol Elementary School, and all take a course in vocational agriculture at the Institute under George C. Berkemeir, instructor. Their afternoons are spent in practical farm experience such as caring for live stock, plowing, cultivation, hoeing, and harvesting the crops.

Every individual has his own project. He is given a selection of one crop to grow and a plot of ground for his first year's work. After the first year, his project may center upon either hogs, sheep, or chicken. His last year, he is allowed a calf to fit for fairs and stock shows in which the farm participates. The American Royal is one of these.

The Drumm Institute boys of high school age are enrolled in the Drumm Farm Chapter of the Future Farmers of America and have won very favorable recognition for the Farm among the high schools of Missouri. They also belong to the 4-H Club.

Not only, is there work and school, but there is play as well at the Institute. Many of the activities include baseball, swimming, football, and basketball, and various winter sports such as skating, coasting, and skiing. They entertain their friends from neighboring schools with informal parties and dances.

The Andrew Drumm Institute is non-sectarian and four denominations are represented by the boys enrolled at the farm. The older boys usually attend the Young People's evening meetings at the different churches in Independence.

A well-selected library is maintained at the Institute, in addition to the public library books available to these boys in school. More than a dozen of the leading magazines, including those published for boys, are always to be found on the reading table in the living room of the dormitory.

We Learn About Vocations from the Experts

Tuesday, October 22, was a great day in the history of East High School. It was on this day that thirty-eight speakers came directly to the classrooms with the purpose of guiding each individual toward the career for which he is best suited. The Vocational Guidance Conference was well received by students and faculty. Thirty-seven vocations were represented by men and women skilled in each. The list included: advertising, agriculture, air hostess, aviation, bookkeeping, building trades, business and office management, chemistry, civil service, commercial art, cosmetology, costume design, drafting, engineering, general office work, homemaking, home economics, journalism, law, librarian, mechanical trades, medicine, metal trades, instrumental music, vocal music, nursing, pharmacy, photography, printing, radio broadcasting, radio technician, railway, secretarial, social service, ministry, teaching, and doctor's technician.

In every room, students acted as chairmen and introduced the speakers. The visitors discussed the advantages and disadvantages, requirements, and opportunities for advancement for each occupation in an interesting manner. After the speeches, pupils were invited to ask questions.

Every part of the school was made festive in honor of the occasion. There were displays in the halls exhibiting the work of the school. The library entered into the spirit of the occasion by selecting books on careers and placing them on tables where they could be easily found by students.

The counselor, Miss Maude Mueller, organized the conference. Faculty members and pupils cooperated to make this conference a success.

The American Junior Red Cross

East High School is proud of its contributions to the Junior Red Cross. For the first time, student chairmen were in charge of the committee. Colleen Brown served during the first semester, and Patricia Kramer assumed the duties for the second semester. Miss Celia Waring served as the faculty adviser for this year's drive.

A contest between the boys and girls was a feature of the collection program. The boys won by 2%. Miss Martin's sub-freshman group gave the largest contribution, and Miss Dasbach's home room took second place.

During the first semester, the home rooms filled educational gift boxes for the needy children in other countries. Every home room filled at least one box.

American Education Week

Room displays were of great interest to the patrons who attended the annual open house. This genial get-together is held each year in observance of American Education Week. The display in room 402, under the supervision of Miss Emma Dim Gilliland, featured the United Nations Organization. The aquarium in Miss Anna McGloin's science classroom drew many interested spectators. Miss Jessie Marie Willitt's all-stamp map of the United States was of special interest to all. Two sub-freshmen were snapped as they inspected the art work of their class. In the R.O.T.C. department, Sergeant Miller displayed war trophies which he and Colonel Edwards collected while in the service.

LIBRARY PAGES AT WORK

The Eastonian photographer caught the student pages busily engaged in the activities which keep the library in tip-top shape for the use of pupils and patrons. John Fredrick and Bob Wheeler are returning books to the shelves so that they can be easily located for the next user. Mrs. Lois Ross, librarian, and Lloyd Aldrich are discussing a new book which has been placed on the "Invitation to Youth" shelf. Much credit is due these loyal workers.

The Library — Treasury of Knowledge

For that "pause that refreshes," our quiet library offers a haven for the busy student. Our efficient librarians give every assistance to the pupil, whether he is preparing his lessons or whether he is seeking the relaxation and enjoyment to be had from the reading of good books.

Miss Sarah Bower is the branch librarian. She is assisted by Mrs. Hazel Marie Peek, and Miss Dorothy Warren. Miss Helen Hitt is in charge of the Children's room. This year's pages are John Fredrick, Bob Wheeler and Lloyd Aldrich.

Our library is operated on the open shelf system. This system was designed with the idea that one who is browsing among the books is more apt to discover new ideas for himself.

Many interesting exhibits have been featured in the display case, and the librarians cooperated in making the Vocational Conference a success. They have arranged displays of books which have been featured in the Bookworm's Corner, in the school paper.

The Health Center — A Friendly Place

These Nurse Proctors aid Miss Alice Walton, our school nurse, in carrying on the important duties of the Health Center. Each year health tests such as the tuberculosis X-Ray and the vision, are given to those desiring them.

Miss Walton aids pupils in forming good health habits, and she cares for those who become ill during school hours. Classes in home nursing are taught by her. She also gives assistance to the doctors giving physical examinations for boys and girls in the physical education classes.

The Cafeteria — Appetizing Food

The cafeteria workers, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Anne J. Ramp, plan a balanced diet for the students and teachers of East High School. Proper consideration is given to the vitamin, mineral and caloric content of the food which is prepared for a balanced meal. The cafeteria is noted for its cleanliness, good organization, and appetizing food.

Take the Ball Right Through the Line Boys

Coach Brown

A fighting, driving, hard-digging East machine fought to what outsiders might call an inglorious end this season. Though, as Grantland Rice once said, "It is not whether you won or lost, but how you played the game."

It can be said that our team never, at any moment of the season, showed a lack of sportsmanship toward any school or its team. It can be said with pride that each boy in his own way tried his best to fulfill his part as a member of the Grizzly eleven.

East played its first game, a non-league tilt, with Ward High School of Kansas City, Kansas. The squad, paced by John Jackson who made a 96-yard run in the last three seconds of the game, walked off the Cyclone field with the winning score of 19-13. "Chuck" Ramsey, veteran tackle, and Ed Sayles paced the Bruin line, while Graham, Mathis, and Jackson did their part in the Bear backfield.

On September 28, the Bruins played their opening game in the Interscholastic League. Northeast, sparked by Johnny Glorioso, All-Star Back, downed East 25 to 0. With five chances to score within the Northeast 20-yard stripe, East failed to tally. Graham did some fine passing during the game.

East returned the following week to subdue a rough and rugged Manual eleven, 7-0. After a blocked punt which was recovered by Bob Tucker, end, on the Crimson 21-yard line, a line buck and a 5-yard penalty, Dan Mathis lugged the "mail" off tackle, standing up for the tally. It was a contest to the end, but the East eleven proved to be the heftiest. Lloyd Enke plugged the line for his best game of the season.

It was Tiger against Bear in the next league contest with the Bears receiving the clawing 13-6. Dan Mathis crossed the stripe for the six points. The touchdown was set up by a 52-yard sprint by John Perry, and a 17-yard pass to Ed Sayles. East had four chances to score, but again lacked that final punch that chalks up those marks on the scoreboard.

East came to life on the following Saturday afternoon with the Bruins finding that missing punch in the first and third quarters to defeat Paseo 14-13. This was one of the best games of the season for both teams were wide awake, and they took advantage of every fumble and loose ball. In the opening minutes of the game, Don Carter fell on a Paseo fumble, which started the East offensive machine. Wells scored from the 1-yard line, and he converted over tackle. Paseo didn't stand idly by, and it was a long pass from Cook to Gilgus that scored. The Pirates failed to convert. Early in the third quarter "Chuck" Ramsey, tackle, intercepted a lateral pass on Paseo's 45-yard line, and ran the ball to Paseo's 5-yard line. Pickett plunged off tackle for the tally. Wells converted. Another pass from Cook to Vierman scored for Paseo. The conversion was good as the game ended 14-13, East.

The following week, the stubborn East team fell beneath the Knights' lance. The Soxman to Baldwin combination clicked for Southeast. This was really a touch-and-go battle for the boys up front. The game was highlighted by numerous fumbles, recoveries, and some all-around good line plays by both teams. The first quarter ended with Wells recovering a fumble on his own 10-yard line, putting a stop to the current threat of that quarter. Late in the second quarter, the Bruins again proved their strength in the line when Ramsey recovered the ball on his own 14-yard line to put a cap on another scoring threat. With two minutes to go in the last quarter, the Soxman to Baldwin combination finally scored. Five times during the game, Southeast was within East's 15-yard line, and five times the Bear linemen repulsed the attack.

Mud highlighted the East-Central game. Paced by Darrah and Willingham, Central downed the green and black, 26-0. It was all the Bears could do to get the ball over the 50-yard stripe. The Grizzlies tried to pass their way out, but failed. They completed only seven passes out of thirty for 76 yards. This was East's worst defeat.

The last game of the season proved that the Bruins still had some fire left. The scoreboard read 26-0, but this doesn't tell the whole story. At the end of the first half, East had held the Indians to a 0-0 standstill, with East gaining considerably more ground the first two quarters. The second half proved a different story, with blocked punts and fumbles causing the Bears' defeat. The star of the Southwest tribe was Tom Nelson, tackle, who recovered a fumble over the goal line for an Indian touchdown.

Thus ended a hectic season, highlighted by bad breaks. The Bears, though defeated, were always able to handle themselves in a meritorious way. The season was officially closed by the annual football banquet which was held on November 19.

Second Team — The City Champions

Another football championship was credited to the gridsters of East high school. This championship didn't bring a new trophy to our showcase, but there are great possibilities that this championship eleven will have a chance at it next year. In the second-team league, the Cubs crushed all foes. East had the lightest, yet hardest hitting team, in the entire circuit. It was through the untiring efforts of the second-team coach, Mr. Gene Sebastian, that these boys won the city championship.

The first game of the season was with Northeast high school. The Cubs walked with a 20-0 win, and this was only the beginning. The next two teams were easy work for the mighty Cubs. They swamped the Manual Red Birds 41-0. The Paseo Pirates put up a tough scrap, but the Cubs finally came through with a score of 12-6. Southeast was the second team to score on the Cubs, but East's scoring eleven made twenty points to down the Knights. Central was outclassed 39-0, and the Cubs moved into a first place tie with Southwest high school.

The championship was decided in the last game of the season, which was played on the East gridiron. The Cubs cinched the title by defeating the Indians 14-7. The league teams scored only nineteen points against the East team during the entire season, and the leading scorer for East was Ed Holbrook, East end, who led the pack with 56 points.

The Basketball Season In Review

EAST-18 — HOGAN-24

Lady Luck turned her back on the East quintet in East's initial game. The Hogan Rams pulled ahead in the last half to triumph 24-18.

Frank Krohn, veteran East forward, was high scorer with 6 points. Bill Speake made the first tally for East in the 1946-1947 basketball season by sinking two free throws early in the game.

EAST-26 — GLENNON-35

This was a close game with Speake as high scorer for East.

At the end of the first quarter Glennon had gained a 2-point lead over the Green and Black, but by the end of the first half the Eagles led by 8 points.

EAST-18 — WILLIAM CHRISMAN-25

East suffered its third defeat out of as many starts. William Chrisman, at the Memorial Hall in Independence, pulled away to a lead.

With a 7 point advantage at the end of the game, a highly-rated Chrismas five, downed the Bruins.

John Willson paced the Bears netting 4 points.

EAST-20 — NORTHEAST-29

A clawing East Bear was finally beaten down by the Vikings of Northeast in the Bruins initial league opener.

Northeast, the Champions of the 1947 loop, gained only a 9-point lead by the end of the game.

Shortly after the beginning of the second half East took the lead by 2 points but failed to retain it.

"Chuck" Ramsey, driving East guard paced the Bruins and also played his best game of the season by swishing the nets for 6 points.

EAST-26 — SOUTHEAST-16

The East Bears paced by John Willson who netted 13 points scored a decisive victory over the Southeast Knights. It was the Bruins first league victory in two years. With loyal support from the crowd, the East five rolled to a win.

The boys played their usual slow, well-organized game all evening which proved a menace to Southeast's fast-breaking team.

Time and time again Billy Speake and Jerry Griffith set up the play with "dead eye" Willson taking the final credit.

EAST-34 — MANUAL-33

While several thousand students went wild, East upset a favored Manual five in a thrilling overtime period by the narrow margin of 1 point.

It looked like a cinch for East at the half when the score stood at 22 to 6 but the second half found the tables reversed and Manual did a great job of tying the game.

Ed Sayles sent a final free throw through the cords in the last few seconds of the overtime to win the game.

Bill Speake was high scorer with 11 points.

EAST-24 — CENTRAL-35

The fighting East Bears were downed by the Central Eagles although the Bears fought hard all the way and led at the half 15 to 14.

Len Koiengsdorf, one of the Eagles' outstanding players led the scoring with 18 points.

John Willson sparked East with 8 points.

EAST-34 — CHRISMAN-39

The East Bears for the second time licked their wounds after the Chrisman Bears clawed them.

The East team went through the game with determination to win and might have, if the Bears could have stopped Griffin of Chrisman who chalked up 22 points.

Willson was again high for East with 10 points.

EAST-19 — TURNER-21

In one of our closest basketball games of the current season East was edged out by the Turner Bears by a score of 21 to 19. It was two quick goals, one in the last second of play that gave Turner the victory.

In the last two quarters both teams began to click on break-away and set shots. Near the end of the game East led by 3 points but failed to hold the lead.

Pickett and Willson led the scoring.

EAST-24 — WESTPORT-30

The enormous Westport Tigers downed a small, hard-fighting East Bear. Led by Jack Carby 6' 7" and Bates 6'5", Westport controlled the backboards at all times.

The scoring was slow all the way with Speake hitting for 7 points and Willson for 5 points.

Both teams scored one-third of their points through the charity route.

EAST-19 — WARD-38

A victorious Ward Cyclone stormed off the East court February 14 with a 38 to 19 win.

Both teams showed strong defense and the game was very close until the third quarter when Ward started hitting the hoop from all angles to pull away 21 to 12.

Doherty was high for the Cyclones with 13 points and Willson starred for East with 8.

EAST-15 — PASEO-24

East failed to knock off a weaker Paseo five.

Shortly after the end of the first quarter, Paseo started hitting the hoop.

In the final period Sayles handled the ball nicely and got his share of the rebounds. One of the highlights of this game was Willson's scoring for the Paseo five by tipping in a basket, which shows that anything can happen in a ball game.

EAST-38 — SOUTHWEST-31

The East Bears came out on the small end of a 38-31 score when they played the Southwest Indians. The Southwest team proved too much of a scoring threat with Nelson dumping in 17 points.

Jerry Griffith took scoring honors for East with 9 points, to officially close the Bruins' 1947 season.

Pounding The Cinders For East

"Go to your marks!" "Get set!" "They're Off!" It's the 1947 track season getting under way. Because of the deadline for copy for the Eastonian, only a forecast of what may happen in the interscholastic race for track championship, can be given. Our cindermen are guided by Coach Roy Brown, who always uncovers some outstanding track talent.

This year the first meet for our boys was the Big Six Track Meet held at the Municipal Auditorium. East placed fourth with 11 points. Southwest, who retained the crown as champions, only scored 15 points to win the meet.

John Jackson, a trackster since his sophomore year, took the 60-yard low hurdles scoring 5 points in that event and 3 points for second in the 60-yard dash. Our relay team scored 1 point with a fourth, and Marcus Frix and Ed Henley both scored a point by placing fourth in the 880-yard run and the 440-yard dash respectively.

John Jackson is East's mainstay this year. Being one of the best in the city in the low hurdles, he is also a good 100-yard dash man and an anchor man for the 880-yard relay team. John's best time on the hurdles to date is 23.7. His goal is 22.6, which should take first in the city and possibly state meets, and equal the city record. His best time on the 100-yard dash is 10.4 and 10.3 is his goal.

Running the 100-yard dash for East, will be Jackson and Paris. They have set 10.3 as their goal. In the 220-yard dash, Burke Gohlman and Robert Kibler will represent. John Jackson and Jimmy Wells will compete in the 220-low hurdles.

For the 110 high hurdles, Ed Sayles, Henry Earley, and C. J. Simmons are promising prospects. Running the 440-yard dash will be Ed Henley and John Perry. The distance run finds Marcus Frix, Fritz Niess and Gary Campbell, all beating the cinders for 880 yards. Competing in the high jump will be Ed Sayles and John Perry. At the broad jump pit, we find Henry Earley, Jimmy Elleman and Jack Bowers. Pole vaulting will be Richard Simpson, Bill Larkins, and Jack Cherry. Last but not least, we find the strong men of East, Chuck Ramsey, Lowell Morse, and Raymond Richilieu, putting the shot.

With this able crew of tracksters, East hopes to bring home the trophy for the 1947 athletic season. With hard work, and consistent training, East can attain this goal. So with this hope, we close the 1946-47 athletic season.

The "Big Four" Of The Athletic Department

Coach Roy Brown, head coach at East High, has been football and track coach since 1938. In that length of time he has had one championship in football and second place for three years. As track mentor he has had three seconds. Coach Brown is considered by other coaches as one of the most sportsmanlike in the city. He made this statement about East High Athletics, "What we need most of all at East, and what we coaches are striving to build in our Athletes, is loyalty to the team and school."

Coach Gene Sebastian former graduate and Athletic star of East High, returned to his Alma Mater to coach the 1947 basketball team. His first year at East as coach proved fruitful by bringing home a second-team championship in football. Coach Sebastian attributes his second team win to all the factors that make for the best football material, but he states, "Their own desire to win was the one thing that took the boys over the rough spots."

Coach Les Fields is the man behind the "1, 2, 3, 4" of the gym classes and athletic squads. In 1942 Coach Fields was assigned to East High School, but two weeks after his appointment, he entered the Armed Forces as a Physical Instructor. After serving our country for two years he came back to East in the fall of 1944. Coach Fields states, "Sportsmanship is a combination of courtesy and fair play. The East High, green clad, athletes have always been good sports."

Mr. W. S. Esther is the efficient manager of the athletic sales and games. He organizes the interesting contest which sell the tickets.

Health In Body and Mind—Girls Athletics

Health is a factor which conditions one's success in all undertakings, personal and social. Since health plays such an important role in present and future life, it is necessary that schools prepare all students for a healthful existence. The Girls' Physical Education department endeavors to accomplish this through the presentation of scientific knowledge, through games, exercises and the development of skills.

This department has many advantages and offers benefits and opportunities for all girls. Participation in the sports develops not only physical fitness, but it teaches the girls cooperation, and develops leadership. If a girl is suffering from a temporary handicap, a special "personality class" attempts to correct these temporary difficulties.

Group sports are open to all girls. This year, large numbers participated in hockey, soccer, basketball and baseball. Ice skating at the Pla Mor rink, bowling, swimming, aerial darts, badminton, table tennis, shuffleboard and hand tennis were enjoyed by many interested in individual sports.

Sportsdays are important in the activities of the year. Hockey Sportsday was held at East this year, on November 2, and East's team was one of the victors. Basketball Sportsday was held at Manual High School on February 8. The "Splash Party" or swimming sportsday was held at the Kansas City Athletic Club.

Physical Education Department

Miss Canny

Miss Storms

Mrs. Huff

The girls' physical education department is under the able leadership of Miss Elenore K. Canny, Miss Marian Storms, and Mrs. Ruth Huff.

Miss Canny has been at East for six years. Previously, she instructed physical education classes at Manual High School and the Kansas City Junior College. Her interests in school activities have contributed to the success of many social activities of the school. She is one of the sponsors of the Athenian Club. She has been the instructor of the Personality Class.

Miss Marian Storms has been engaged in physical education work for ten years. She has been at East for one and one-half years. For two years during the war period, Miss Storms worked with the American Red Cross in the China-Burma area, as a program director. Before entering the service, she taught at Central Junior High School, and also at Paseo. Miss Storms has been active in various school activities. She directed this year's successful Outburst. She is one of the sponsors of the Athenian Club, and she takes charge of after-school activities.

This is Mrs. Ruth Huff's first year at East. She has been teaching in the Kansas City school system for four years. Previously, she taught at Parsons Junior College at Parsons, Kansas. Her extra-curricular work has centered around the after-school activities. She sponsored the participation in ice skating which was highly successful with over 150 girls receiving instruction. Mrs. Huff is also sponsor of the Athenian Club.

These teachers have played an important part in the development of healthy minds and bodies.

Personality Class — Physical Fitness

Personality plus, good posture, grooming, and good health habits, are a few of the interesting topics which hold the attention of the girls in the modified gymnasium class.

The ten-minute rest period at the beginning of the class period puts the girls in a receptive mood for the health lessons which follow. Recreational games such as ping-pong, Chinese checkers, tennis, archery, horseshoes, aerial darts and badminton are played with skill and vigor. Creative dancing, too, is a part of the program.

The members of this class have temporary deficiencies, and are endeavoring to overcome them through these activities.

Awards and Honors—Girls Athletics

After-school activities are open to any girl in East High School. Girls who participate in these sports are eligible for the girls' athletic awards. This year, 127 girls have received these awards.

R.O.T.C. Leaders of the Kansas City Schools

The Kansas City Schools are fortunate in having Lieutenant Colonel Bob E. Edwards as Professor of Military Science and Tactics. While serving in Europe during the war, he won many honors. Before entering the Army, he was one of the outstanding students on the campus of Ouachita College in Arkansas. Colonel Edwards believes that army training develops a spirit of teamwork among the men, and that R.O.T.C. offers boys one of the best opportunities for the development of physical fitness and good citizenship. East High School salutes Colonel Bob Edwards for his fine work with the R.O.T.C. units of the city.

Major Logan R. Rappe, assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics for the R.O.T.C. of the Kansas City schools, is a graduate of East Denver High School, Denver, Colorado. He has attended Colorado State College and the University of Illinois, where he began his career in the Army. He was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he was assigned to troop duty. In April, 1944, he was shipped overseas. During the war Major Rappe served in the European area. At the end of the war, he returned to the United States to undertake his duties as an R.O.T.C. leader.

QUEEN OF THE BALL

Elected by a majority vote of the East cadets, Joyce Ann Owens reigned as Queen of the annual R.O.T.C. Ball, Friday evening, March 21, 1947. Queen Joyce has been prominent as "Best Girl Artist" during her four years. She is in the upper quartile of the senior class. She has been an active member of many organizations. Lieutenant Colonel Edwards was on hand to do the honors. The queen's attendants were Travis Thomas and Juanita Murphy.

Sgt. Miller

Master Sergeant Jack C. Miller is in his first year as instructor of the East Battalion. He attended high school in McPherson, Kansas, and after graduating enlisted in the Army. After two years of service, he attended Officers Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia, receiving a commission as Second Lieutenant. He served as an officer for three years, and was discharged as Captain in February, 1946. Sergeant Miller re-enlisted in April, 1947, as Master Sergeant and was sent to Kansas City as an R.O.T.C. instructor. His overseas duties include Okinawa and Korea. East is fortunate in having such a capable and efficient R.O.T.C. head.

Major David Gutridge, through his application to duty, was named Supply Officer on the Regimental Staff. He has participated in many school activities. He has been vice-president of Kalailu, vice-president of Hi-Y, and a member of the all-city Hi-Y Council. He has been an honor student for four years.

Major Robert Worley, Commander of the East Batallion, has received numerous awards in his R.O.T.C. work. Besides being the capable commander of the battalion, he has taken an active part in school activities.

Captain Robert Flinner has served as the Batallion Executive Officer. His interest in school affairs has led him to serve as president of the Spanish Club, president of Hi-Y and treasurer and sergeant-at-arms of the Kalailu Literary Society.

"The purpose of the R.O.T.C. is, exclusively and specifically, educational. The continued necessity for pursuing this special training is found in realistic and dispassionate evaluation of existing world conditions. Its effective accomplishment depends upon the devotion to duty and professional efficiency of instructors, upon the excellence of instructional literature, and upon public-spirited cooperation between military officials, high school authorities and student bodies."

General Douglas MacArthur.

The East High School Branch of the R.O.T.C. is under the able guidance of Master Sergeant Jack C. Miller, United States Army. Lieutenant Colonel Bob Edwards, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, is the supervisor of the entire Kansas City area.

The R.O.T.C. presents one of the basic forms of military strategy to the cadets. This training teaches the cadets to become upright citizens. Close order drill, rifle marksmanship, organization, and other military subjects are studied by the cadets.

The R.O.T.C. includes many important events in its school year in addition to the usual drill and theory work. One of these is the annual Military Ball, which was this year, held on March 21. Joyce Owens, the Queen, Juanita Murphy and Travis Thomas the Princesses, were elected by the votes of the cadets.

Federal Inspection closely followed the ball. A group of army officers comprise the inspecting team. The inspection requires one full day to receive a full report on the Battalion. The inspection is based upon the care of clothing and equipment, military theory, and drill capabilities. Last year the East Battalion won second place in competition with the other schools.

The development of good marksmanship is another interesting activity in the R.O.T.C. The rifle team competes against the other schools in the city and out of town.

The most important event in the year is Field Day. All of the schools compete against each other in Battalion, Company, Platoon, Squad, and Individual Drill. Cups and medals are received by the winning schools.

After these events the Battalion is turned over to the prospective officers for the following year.

Student Council — The Governing Body

First Semester

OFFICERS

Robert Graham.....President
Charles Reed.....Vice-President
Colleen Brown.....Secretary
Margaret Glad.....Treasurer
Donald Kudart.....Sergeant-at-Arms

The Student Council is a cooperative undertaking. Each individual member of the home rooms has an opportunity to lead and to follow. Each carries a share of the responsibility in the government of the school through his part in the election of the room representative. Through working toward common goals, the combined efforts of this cooperative group solves many important problems. It is through such an organization, that all pupils recognize the fact that obedience to constituted authority, as manifested in the rules upon which they have voted, is a necessary element in a well-ordered school. They believe that the remedy for any rule is to seek to change it through the organization which they have set up, and in which they have a part.

Under the guidance of the Council the first semester, East placed first among city high schools in the sale of tuberculosis seals. Donald Kudart was one of the three finalists for mayor for All-City High School Day, and even though not elected, he did serve in another capacity with these other officers from East: Robert Graham, Richard Simpson, Carl Hicks, Peggy Taylor, Colleen Brown, Frank Krohn, and Charles Reed. Pins were again purchased by members.

Members from every class make up the executive board, which meets every Friday morning to decide what business will come before the Council on the following Monday. Those for the first semester were: Richard Simpson, senior representative; Donald Dull, junior representative; Nancy Bergner, sophomore representative; and Mary Werning, subfreshman representative.

Second Semester Council

Mr. Dix

Miss Boone

Colleen Brown wielded the gavel for the second semester. This was the first time in nine years that a girl had received this high honor. The other officers were: Houston Flournoy, vice-president; Greta Farmer, secretary; Tommy Vincent, treasurer; and Jerry Griffith, sergeant-at-arms.

The Council, under the able guidance of these officers, accomplished many worthwhile things. Its members stressed "Courtesy Week," worked on the scholarship "E," and endeavored to bring about many improvements in the school building. Such committees as the cafeteria committee, the rest room committee, and the corridor committee, spent much time and energy endeavoring to better existing conditions.

The members of the executive board for the second semester were: Junior Huddlestun, Senior Representative; LeRoy Cox, Junior Representative; Bert Larkin, Sophomore Representative; Don Howey, Freshman Representative; and Robert Leek, Sub-Freshman Representative. The Junior Continuity Member to the All-City Council was Jim Elleman.

Miss Nora Boone and Mr. John P. Dix were the faithful and capable advisers for the groups. Much credit is due them for the accomplishments of this strong and active organization.

A. A. U. W.

The American Association of University Women gives membership to four outstanding sophomore girls each year. They are chosen on a basis of scholarship and personality ratings. They continue membership throughout high school. The following girls have membership in this association:

ART HONORS

During the month of May, the art students of East High School are given an opportunity to qualify for the National Art Honor Society. Each student must present a "One-Man Show" to the judges. These individual exhibits consist of ten pieces of art work done in at least four different media. The work is judged on the merits of originality and workmanship. The students named for first and second place will receive a subscription to the American Artist Magazine.

The winners in May, 1946, were:

Beverly Canine, Joyce Owens, Edward Chambon, Tommy Vincent, Betty Gardner, Dolores Cockell, Mary Hunting, Sylvia Chapman, Barbara Graham, Jacquelyne Lowery, Cecilia McCarthy, Phyllis Sparks, Rose Stave, Harold

Those art students receiving Gold Keys in the Regional Scholastic Art Competition are: Donna Lewis, Terry Benton, Myron Nelson, Joyce Owens, Tommy Vincent and Margaret Glad.

In addition to these, the work of Betty Joslin, Joan Lassiter, Jacquelyne Lowery, Joanne Mauk, Donald Bailey, William DeShazer, Patty Cox, Joan White, Doris Cox, Tommy Vincent, Joyce Owens and Margaret Glad was sent to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for the final judging.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the members of the Student Council purchased Council pins. This is the first year they have been able to do this at East since before the war.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD

This year, Ruth Boles was selected by the entire senior class as the "Good Citizen of East High School," for her demonstration of dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism. She was awarded a Good Citizenship Certificate by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

SCHOLARSHIP E's

To obtain scholarship E's a student must reach certain standards. These standards are: They must earn sixteen scholarship points, twelve in "E" grades for consecutive semesters. The awards are the bronze, silver, and gold "E's." The fourth award is a guard for the gold "E."

To obtain the bronze "E" a student must meet the requirements for two consecutive semesters. The following earned this "E": Lloyd Aldrich, Arla Bateman, David Carr, John Esther, Barbara Fenton, Richard Fisher, Bob Flinner, Bruce Jagow, Janis Henson, Ed Holbrook, Yvonne Kinkead, Bert Larkin, Elaine Masters, Constance Shields, Bob Stuckey, Teddy Violet, Louise Young, and Myrle Young.

The silver "E" is given when a student meets the requirements for four consecutive semesters. These students received this award: Clara Beasley, Don Dull, Richard Simpson.

To obtain the gold "E" the requirements must be met for six consecutive semesters. These students obtained this "E": Ruth Boles, Houston Flournoy, Richard Simpson.

To obtain the guard, the requirements must be met for eight consecutive semesters. These students received the guard: Bob Loy, Peggy Taylor.

CHAMPION SPELLER

For the first time this year, under the auspices of the East Echo Staff, an all-school spelling bee was held to determine the champion speller at East High School. Ted Violett, a sophomore, won first place and received a check for $5.00; Arla Bateman, a senior, won second place and a check for $2.50, and Teresa Krebs, a freshman, won third place and a check for $1.00.

"IT PAYS TO BE SMART"

The program, "It Pays to Be Smart," was broadcast from East High School last fall, and Houston Flournoy, a senior, won first place receiving a $25 war bond. Richard Simpson, a senior, won second place and $10 in cash.

QUILL AND SCROLL

For the first time in the history of East, a chapter of Quill and Scroll, an International Honor Society for High School Journalists, was formed. For their superior work in writing, editing or business management on the Echo and the Eastonian, these students were elected to membership: Ruth Boles, LaWanda Featherstone, Phyllis Fensom, Richard Fisher, J. H. Flucke, Norma Jane Heady, Pat Kramer, Charles Leopold, Milton Pierce, Charles Ramsey, Charles Reed, Joanne Spencer, Peggy Taylor and Louise Young.

It's Work But It's Fun

These five industrious people are just beginning the process which finally leads to your copy of the East Echo. Margaret Glad, art editor, is pointing out to Charles Reed, managing editor, the spot for her zinc on the dummy on the board. Pat Kramer, business manager, is seated at the desk with her pencil posed for action. Don Kudart, sports editor, is looking over a story of last week's game. Louise Young, literary editor, is looking through the file for some additional editorial material. They will begin work early and stay late before the paper reaches your hands, for the copy must be written, printed, galleys proofread, and the dummy made up. Yes, it's work, but it's fun!

The people gathered around Richard Fisher, editor-in-chief, are those who are partly responsible for this 1947 Eastonian. Work was begun last September, and the job was not completed until about a month ago when the last of the copy was finally sent to the printer. Virginia Crosby's work as business manager, began in earnest when the time approached to take orders and deliver the books. Peggy Taylor, assistant editor, worked steadily from the time the book was planned until the last typed word was sent to the printer. Norma Jane Heady as editor of the senior section, contributed many ideas, and saw that they were carried out. Margaret Glad is substituting for Joyce Owens, art editor. The responsibility of the sports section fell upon the broad and capable shoulders of "Chuck" Ramsey. Yes, it's work, but it's fun!

The Staff of the Year—Eastonian

E-ach and everyone of us,
A-s writers of this book,
S-ay to everyone of you
T-hat it's fine—just look!
O-h, it took work—
N-ow don't you doubt it, but
I-t was fun besides,
A-nd we hope you like it,
N-ow we present it with pride.

THE STAFF

A senior section that the seniors will cherish and long remember; lively football and basketball write-ups that will find us yelling the "Skyrocket" in a crowded grandstand years from now; gay Outburst and play accounts that will take us back to the expectancy of the auditorium on opening night; pictures to record forever the many happy times we have had during the past year at East—these are the things that the Eastonian Staff has strived to bring you in the 1947 Eastonian.

They Meet the Deadline—The Echo Staff

Sparkling feature stories, chatty editorials, sizzling sport write-ups, the ECHO has brought you the latest in school news during the year. The people behind those stories have worked hard to give you the kind of paper you wanted. They've had their troubles, but the final stories were worked over until they were the best that could be printed.

Room 106 is the scene of great activity. There's Charlie Reed, managing editor, seated by the copy boxes, scanning paper after paper. Do you suppose Joanne Spencer found as many errors when she was managing editor during the first semester?

There's Margaret Glad, working at the table with Joyce Owens. A drawing for a zinc, depicting the need for a new wing for the school, is in the process of being created. Margaret and Joyce have added interest to the paper as art editors for the two semesters. Joyce drew the caricatures for the senior ballot—remember?

At the big table by the door, "Chuck" Ramsey is working with the front page staff. They have to be fast, but they have to be right, too. "Chuck" is to be congratulated on his work on the all-school spelling bee. Jack Simpson had his job last semester.

There's Phyllis Fensom with her feature staff gathered around her, at the table in the front of the room. We shall know what causes their laughter by reading the feature page. This job was handled by Mike Santoro, the first semester.

"Make it short, but be sure that you put your idea across in an interesting way." That's Louise Young giving some pointers to her editorial staff. It seems to be sound advice, and Louise should know, for she writes so well herself. Milton Pierce headed this group last semester.

Pat Kramer, seated at Miss Welch's desk, doesn't look big enough to struggle with those big financial problems facing the business manager, but she does handle them—and well! The ad set-up, alone, is enough to give anyone a few gray hairs. Richard Fisher had the position last semester.

Pat Folsom is always busy with the circulation list. The distribution of 1100 papers is not an easy job. John Franke and Allyn Jones filled this spot during the first semester.

In the back of the room, Don Kudart and his sports staff are planning their page. These fellows and girls have to be "on the spot" at football and basketball games and all other sport events. Bob Dolson was sports editor during the first semester.

Moving from group to group is Ruth Boles, editor-in-chief. Her suggestions help the staff over difficult hurdles. She has to keep pounding for copy, but she sees that they meet the deadline. Ruth was elected by the other staff members to her position, so when she asks for cooperation, she gets it! Charles Leopold did a good job in this spot, the first semester.

Yes—these are the people who try to keep you posted on Thursday mornings, twice a month. It's work, but it's fun! Miss Virginia Welch is the adviser, and Miss Minnie Baker, the school treasurer, checks the balance sheet.

"To establish a fellowship of women and girls, devoted to the task of realizing in our common life, those ideals of personal living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God." This is the purpose of the Y-Teens.

The name, Y-Teens, was adopted nationally in June, 1946. It replaced the name, "Girl Reserves." The East club, a school member of the Young Woman's Christian Association, was organized in 1926. Any girl who is a student of East High School may become a Y-Teen, if she is willing to accept the purpose of the organization.

The programs throughout the year are based on Christian ideals. A tour of a synagogue, and an explanation of the Jewish religion was a feature of Brotherhood Week. The annual Tri-City Conference was held at Rosedale High School in Kansas City, Kansas. The Y-Teens and the Hi-Y organization work together in many programs. A national Hi-Y and Y-Teen Conference will be held in June at Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa. The East groups sponsor morning devotional services during the week preceding Easter.

The faculty advisers of the triangles are: Miss Virginia McClure, chief adviser—senior triangle; Miss Winifred Young, junior triangle; Miss Carolyn Dasbach, sophomore triangle; Miss Cosby Harrison, sub-freshman triangle.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Marion W. Sell with Betty Deuser serving as concertmaster, the orchestra completed another successful year. The members displayed ability to master both classical and popular music.

The group played for all regular assemblies, for the spring play, and the commencement exercises. The members attended the Orchestra Festival at Paseo High School. One of its most successful performances was given at the annual Outburst. The switch to swing for this presentation was not a difficult one for this talented group.

GRADE 6 1963-64

We Just Can't "Beat The Band"

The familiar crash of the cymbals and the heavy beat of the drum were heard this year at the Interscholastic League games, as the band once again backed East's football and basketball teams. Band music added zest to the pep assemblies, and furnished a colorful background for the senior field day, and R.O.T.C. Inspection. Participation in the Band Festival in the Music Hall, was another activity for the year.

Many of the compositions were composed by the band's able director, Mr. Marion W. Sell.

The audience is quiet, the piano sends forth four notes of pitch, the director raises his arms, and from the voices of seventy-three boys and girls come the blending notes of a long-remembered spiritual.

The director is Mr. Laurence Nivens, and the voices are those of East's A Cappella choir. This scene was repeated many times during the past year, as the choir had a busy and successful season. In addition to the many school programs, such as Open House, and the Christmas and Easter programs, the choir sang at the Music Hall during the Scholastic Award Week, at the Presbyterian Church in Independence, Missouri, the Grand Avenue Temple, and the Kensington Avenue Baptist Church. The senior members sang for graduation.

To be eligible for this musical organization, it is required that a pupil have two years of vocal music with a grade of "S" or above.

El Club Espanol was organized for the purpose of stimulating an interest in the Spanish language. The activities are planned in an endeavor to create better understanding of our neighbors "south of the border."

The national colors of Spain, red and yellow, have been adopted as the club colors. The pin is a shield and the coat of arms of Spain with a lion guard. Mr. F. N. Cummins, Spanish instructor, is the sponsor.

In the food served, games played and songs learned, at the meetings and parties, can be seen the Spanish influence. The two social events of the year were the Christmas Fiesta and the annual Spring Fiesta.

The Commercial Club is composed of students who are studying or have taken commercial subjects. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in business and industrial affairs, and to promote friendly cooperation among the students of the department.

One of the outstanding events of the year was the observance of Business Education Week, March 17-21. This was highlighted by a reception which was held for the superior sophomore and junior English students. Business skits were presented by the various classes.

Members had opportunities to acquaint themselves with all types of office work. Speakers from various manufacturing and business concerns, tours through offices, demonstrations of newest office equipment, as well as dramatizations of business procedures and general good times, make the Commercial Club one of the most interesting departmental clubs in the school.

Miss Mabel Mary Cobb, shorthand and typewriting instructor, is the sponsor.

Girls In Action — The Athenian Club

The Athenian Club encourages a high standard in health and an active interest in athletics. It promotes friendship and cooperation among its members.

To be eligible for membership, a girl must have the following qualifications:

(1) An "S" grade in physical education.

(2) No "F's" in any subject the previous semester.

(3) A small shield must have been earned.

To obtain a small shield, a girl must participate in three major sports and one individual sport. These requirements may be attained by taking part in after-school activities. Every girl in East is eligible to attend the after-school activities.

The club gives its members training in cooperation, and a chance to discover and develop traits of leadership.

The sponsors of the Athenian Club are: Miss Elenore K. Canny, Miss Marian Storms, and Mrs. Ruth Huff, instructors in the physical education department.

Any Thursday Afternoon

As we walk along the third-floor corridor, we needn't be alarmed at hearing strange sounds coming from room 313. It's just the Kalailu Literary Society singing the traditional Hawaiian war chant. Kalailu is the only boy-girl club at East. It was organized in October, 1926. This year, the club is under the guidance of Mrs. Neva Hutton. The bright red sweaters and red-and-white jackets scattered over the room tell us the club's colors. Aloha, Kalailu!

We can understand the song that is being sung in room 315. The Eulexia Literary Society is meeting with Miss Katherine Miller, the current sponsor. Eulexia was founded in December, 1929. The club colors are pink and blue, and they can be seen in the form of trim battle jackets worn by the girls. Eulexia was the fourth club to be established at East. It united with the Websters as a brother club, when the latter was organized in 1937. One of the high points of the year is the Eulexia-Leundis basketball game, and this year, the Eulexians came out on top with a score of 31-7. As we leave, we can hear the girls singing, "Oh, the Eulexian girl is quite discreet; she is one hundred per from head to feet."

Next, we see a gathering of boys in their jackets of blue and white. They're singing something about "All pals together." This must be Mr. Richard Benson's room, and the Hamilton meeting. Why, yes, this is room 302! This all-boy society was founded in 1928. It is a brother club of Leundis Literary Society. One of the highlights of the year is the Ham-Webster football game, and this year, the Hams won!

And now, to the fourth floor and room 402. This is the meeting of the Leudians with Miss Emma Dim Gilliland. All the girls are wearing soft grey and pink jackets and grey skirts. This all-girl club was organized in November, 1926, and the girls cherish the saying, "Once a Leundian, always a Leundian." The members and their brother "Hams" share many social events throughout the year.

We need dark glasses to enter room 405. Those jackets of black, gold and crimson are really flashy! The Webster Literary Society is the youngest club at East. It was chartered in the spring of 1937. This year, it is under the direction of Miss May Farr Hiatt. One of the outstanding events of the school year for the Websters is the Webster-Eulexia hayride. As the closing bell rings, we hear the members singing, "Black, gold, and crimson so true; we all strive to do things for you."

But so much for the individual clubs, as there are two events shared by all the societies each year. These are the Inter-Society Dance, and the annual Literary Contest. They were held on March 8, and April 25 respectively, this year. The dance was a big success, and the contest was a lively, gay affair with the traditional "slam" songs and the bright new jackets. It was a real contest to the end, with hard work and fun for all. This year, too, the School-at-Large entered contestants.

TO A FOREST

O Forest, I wish I could sing the song
You sing to all who pass your way.
I wish I could walk all my life along
Your golden paths of yesterday.

The black of your thickets, your shining streams,
The shadows of your dusty shade,
The childish joy of my golden dreams,
Were all a part of the game we played.

Deep in your heart my solace lay,
Deep in your tangled vine.
These were the charms of your wopded way;
These were the dreams that could not be mine.

For as I walked the sky grew gray,
More tangled grew my road.
Forlorn and lonely was my way,
And heavy grew my load.

But as the months and years depart,
And human lives decline,
The memories lost within your heart,
Will hold their place in mine.

Robert Werning—First place verse,
Hamilton Literary Society
1946 Contest.

We Take to the Air in the "Sacred Bear"

The imaginary, jet-propelled airplane, "Sacred Bear," was grounded on December 6 due to the fuel shortage, and the 1947 Outburst, our variety show, was postponed. However, on December 13 and 14, the "Sacred Bear" took off on its long-awaited world tour from LaGuardia Air Field, New York City. Before boarding the plane, we mingled with fellow passengers in the airport. We saw a cross section of the American people from a movie star to noisy children. With the roar of the airplane engines ringing in our ears, we crossed to Ireland, and it was a "Grand Night for Flying."

We landed in Dublin, Ireland, during the Kilkenny Fair and joined in the St. Patrick's parade. Majorettes sang and twirled their batons before the coronation of the king. We heard the strains of "Bogey Doew" and "Sweet Molly O." One gay colleen sang and danced to "A Wee Bit o' Heaven," and the king himself sang "Rose of Tralee." As we boarded the "Sacred Bear," they were dancing their Irish folk dance.

From the rustic scenes of Ireland, we were transported to sophisticated Paris. A reminiscent accordion player on a street corner was playing "The Last Time I Saw Paris." A light-hearted girl sang "Night and Day." We were ushered into a famous Parisian night club by its master of ceremonies as its patrons sang "Wanting You." This made us feel very welcome. As sleek waiters silently glided from table to table, we watched an acrobatic dancer, and marveled at her lithesomeness. A line dance of "Doing What Comes Naturally" offered many laughs furnished by its comedienne. The club's lovely soloist told us what the outcome would be if "I Were the Only Girl." A girl tap dancer danced to "I Cried for You." The night club was well ventilated, but its guests again entered the performance by singing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes." We rapidly went from the sublime to the ridiculous, as a comedy team tripped blithely to the floor. The effect of American "Boogey" upon Parisian entertainment was heard in the rendition of a piano solo, "Clair De' Boogie." A handsome soloist pleaded with us to "Surrender," even though we had already succumbed to the charm of France. Color was added to the floor show by the chorus girls' version of "South America Take It Away." It was growing late, and we left the club singing "All the Things You Are."

We witnessed a traditional fencing match and a saber drill in Vienna, Austria. A piano solo, Chopin's "Military Polonaise," further developed the military setting. The singing of "If I Loved You" placed us in a more romantic mood for the ballroom dance which followed. In the twilight, a young man and a little girl pantomimed the sentimental song "Rosa Marie." At dusk in the verdant Vienna Woods, the spirits of Spring swirled in a dance of fantasy.

From mysterious Vienna, the "Sacred Bear" carried us to romantic Hawaii where the palm trees were gently swaying in the mild zephyrs. A Hawaiian girl sang "Sweet Lailani," and the islanders sang, "Song of the Islands" and "Island Flower." The dreamy scene was enlivened by a Honolulu tap dance, and the swaying hips of hula dancers. "Aloha" was sung to us as we left this dreamy isle of the Pacific.

Back in the United States, we landed in Cheyenne, Wyoming, deep in the heart of the wild and woolly West. A rootin', tootin' rodeo was rapidly getting under way, as the ringmaster took charge. The spectators around the corral sang "Saddle Your Blues to a Wild Mustang" and "Cowboy Life." A couple of old hands demonstrated their prowess in rope twirling, and rugged soldiers of the West gave a military drill. To the astonishment of all, a gaunt old horse sauntered into the arena and started a witty conversation with the ringmaster. Cowboys often sing songs about their life on the range. In one typical ballad, they compared their drifting life to that of a "Tumbling Tumble Weed." The whip cracking of a father and daughter team added suspense to the scene. The father tore paper from his daughter's hand, and performed other stunts which required skill and nerve on the part of both. Our visit to the West would not have been complete without seeing Indians in their full war dress. An Indian maiden sang the mournfully sweet song of "Indian Summer." Her fellow tribesmen danced the weird and colorful dance which had been handed down from generation to generation. The mysterious thudding of one war drum was heard across the plains, as it beat out the rhythm of the Indian dance. Influenced by the dance, the spectators lifted their voices in song, and the strains of the "Navaho Prayer" drifted across the plains.

On the last lap of our journey back to New York, the orchestra entertained us with the modern swing of "My Sugar Is So Refined." We landed at our home airport just in time, for our trumpet soloist warned us that "Stormy Weather" was blowing in. The people of the countries we had visited lifted their voices in the swelling chorus of "One World" for the grand finale.

East Went "Plane Crazy"

It Was "Plane Crazy"

The house lights were dimmed, the footlights were on, and the curtains in the East auditorium were drawn for the spring play, "Plane Crazy." This was a presentation by the members of the Masque Drama Club under the direction of Miss Viona Ewalt. The date was Friday evening, March 28.

As the title indicates, Jimmy Haleon, a typical seventeen-year-old high school boy, wanted to fly, but his father was far from air-minded. After many humorous incidents such as having to borrow his best friend's pants, and being discovered missing from his room where he was supposedly studying, the conspiracy was ended. Chip Burke, a flying instructor, gave a sales talk to Mr. Haleon convincing him that flying was O. K. The play came to a happy ending with the issuance of Jimmy's flying permit.

We Nominate for East's Hall of Fame—

Teachers and books have played an important part in the drama of high school life, but as the pages of time are turned back over the past four years, it is found that the social gatherings and friendships shared with fellow classmates rate high as the fondest memories. A crisp fall night and an exciting football game; the confident feeling of "victory for your class" on Junior-Senior Field Day; the soft, misty swirl of your filmy, pastel formal, or the pretended casualness of a dress suit and stiff collar as you make your way into a world of magic color, soft music, and dreamy dancing at the Senior Prom; and the huge lump that comes into your throat when, clad in the soft gray of cap and gown, you receive your diploma, marking the end of your life at East High School. These are the things that make high school days and nights the happiest in life.

Friends' names naturally pop into mind with such thoughts, and so we nominate for East's "Hall of Fame" . . .

Albert Able ..... for his able work in the main library.
Mary Aldrich ..... because she made grades with ease ("E's").
Janice Austin ..... because she balanced (?) the books as second-semester treasurer of Kalailu.
Howard Arnall ..... for his combination of art and athletics.
Glenn Bailey ..... for his crisp command to "pledge allegience to the flag" in assemblies.
Arla Bateman ..... for her spelling ability and for being an efficient student clerk in the office.
Audrey Blades ..... for activities in nursing in the COE program.
Norma Lee Boehm..... for her witty features in the Echo.
Ruth Boles ..... for making such a peppy song leader for Kalailu, and such an efficient Editor-in-Chief of the Echo, second semester.
Colleen Brown ..... for being the ninth girl president of Student Council in the history of East.
Jackie Bryant ..... the cute, curly-headed little cheerleader who won the title of "Social Belle."
David Carr ..... for always riding and writing "Those Jalopies."
Don Carter ..... for his outstanding playing on the football field.
Norma Jean Cleland ..... for being the lucky girl to be secretary of the ROTC.
Vernon Courts ..... for making such good grades even while making a success of his COE job and representing Websters in declamation.
Virginia Crosby ..... for the work she did as School Business Manager.
Leonard Dennis ..... because he made us all swoon when he tooted that muted trumpet.
Betty Deuser ..... for occupying the first chair in the violin section—concert mistress with dimples.
Pat Diecidue ..... for his sharp shooting on the ROTC rifle team—"dead eye" Pat.
Bill Edmonston ..... for his prize-winning work in the Future Farmers of America.
Lloyd Enke ..... for defending the line with all his might during the football season.
Greta Farmer ..... because she kept the minutes so efficiently as Student Council secretary.
Martha Farnsworth ..... for her artistic ability—especially for producing such original blouses.
LaWanda Featherstone ..... for her hard work on both the Eastonian and Echo staffs.
Glen Felton ..... because he begged us to "Surrender" in the Outburst.
Richard Fisher ..... for being "big boss"—Editor-in-Chief of the Eastonian, and for being "father" to so many in the plays.
Bob Flinner ..... for being such a fine ROTC officer.
Houston Flournoy ..... for proving that it "Pays to Be Smart"—all the time.
Patty Folsom ..... for being Eulexia's orator for two years in the Lit Contest.
Bill Fortune ..... for using his "Muscles" as cheerleader for two years.
Dale Gardels ..... he was almost—but not quite—hidden by his tuba.
Doris Gerhardt ..... the bright girl who wrote the "Book Worm's Corner."
James Gilroy ..... because he just missed being Kilroy.
Margie Glad ..... for wielding the Eulexian baton as song leader at Lit Contest.
Richard Glathaar ..... for his excellent record of perfect attendance.
Bob Graham ..... for the marvelous job he did as president of both his junior and senior classes and Student Council—the boy who has "Done Most for East."
Jerry Griffith ..... for being a hep drummer boy and a whiz bang at basketball.
David Gutridge ..... for being highest cadet officer in East's ROTC.
Gerry Hanna ..... for being "queen for a day" on Junior-Senior Field Day.
Joyce Harris ..... because she was the little girl with loads of pep as cheerleader.
Norma Jane Heady ..... not only for "Best Girl Actress" but for her long blond hair.
Frances Heinman ..... for her remarkable talent with horses and ropes.
Carl Hicks ..... for all the ways he proved that he really was "Best Boy Actor."
Junior Huddlestun ..... for his outstanding work as president of the "Youth on the Beam" Bible club.

Norma Humphrey ..... for proving that "precious things come in small packages."
George Hunt ..... for his "bang-up" job in football and being such a "Jolly Good Boy."
John Jackson ..... for breaking the low-hurdle record at the Big-Six Track Meet—that flash of red!
Bill Jackson ..... for being the proud winner of an airplane scholarship.
Marguerite James ..... for that cute "southern accent."
Allyn Jones ..... for his fine portrayal of "Chip Burke" in the spring play.
Richard Jones ..... was he the "Richard" behind the door?
Doris Lee King ..... for being the first president of the Science Club.
Pat Kramer ..... the little girl who handled the big job as first semester president of Leundis.
Frank Krohn ..... so tall, dark and so-o-o handsome, and such a whiz on the basketball court.
Don Kudart ..... for being one of the three candidates for mayor of All-City high school day.
Bill Larkins ..... for being a typical trackman—Oh, that burr cut!
Charles Lee ..... for his skill in drafting.
Charles Leopold ..... for being Editor-in-Chief of the Echo first semester.
Marie Lombardo ..... for being senior trinagle president of Y-Teens.
Doris Lowe ..... for receiving the honor of "Best Girl Musician."
Jackie Lowery ..... besides being a talented artist, she made a wonderful Eulexian president.
Bob Loy ..... for combining the honor of being "Best Boy Student" and first in the class, with the popularity of being a fine cheerleader.
Bob McCurley ..... for being "Worst Boy Flatterer"—it was true!
Leatha McArthur ..... for her outstanding interest in Spanish.
Maxine Miller ..... because she was "Worst Girl Flatterer," but she didn't flatter the rest of the clubs when she was Leundis song leader.
Virginia Miller ..... for her admirable return to school after her stroke of bad luck.
Fern Nelson ..... for being a first-rate secretary in so many organizations.
Marilyn Nelson ..... because she was the pretty blond girl who looked so "right" next to tall, dark, and handsome—guess who?
Helen Neiss ..... for her outstanding talent for dancing and singing.
Joyce Ann Owens ..... for being such a beautiful queen at the ROTC ball and for all the art honors she won.
John Perry ..... for having such broad shoulders as a halfback.
Madelyn Rader ..... for her dramatic talent and her "whip-cracking" act with her father in the Outburst.
Charles Ramsey ..... that big "hunk of man" who did so wonderfully well on the Eastonian and Echo, in athletics, and the Lit Contest.
Nancy Raup ..... you could hardly see her because of the big bows she wore in her upswept hair.
Charles Reed ..... he was "Most Popular Boy"—'nuff said!
Georgia Riley ..... for her soprano voice and snapping brown eyes.
Betty Roberts ..... for that beautiful, beautiful voice and grand personality which made her "Most Popular Girl."
Mike Santoro ..... for his fine work as president of "Grizzly's Grotto."
Ed Sayles ..... that long and lean "Best Boy Athlete."
Bill Schaefer ..... for his big friendly grin even when collecting money from the "Hams."
Colleen Shepherd ..... the "Li'l Honey Chile" who was giftorian of both her junior and senior classes.
Jack Simpson ..... for all his talent and experience in radio broadcasting—he was "on the beam."
Richard Simpson ..... for sailing up and over so easily in pole vault and staying down to earth so well in football.
Frances Smith ..... because she made such a perfect "Jolly Good Girl."
Bill Speake ..... for all those goals in the basketball—"dead-eye" Speakes.
Peggy Taylor ..... she ranked as highest girl in scholastic rating and was voted "Best Girl Student."
Evon Thomas ..... for all her original ideas as cheerleader, lit contestant, Leundis president and—"Bluffer."
Travis Thomas ..... for being one of the pretty princesses at the ROTC ball.
Halsey Tribble ..... for being captain of that back-bending stage crew.
Patty Todd ..... she was "Most Bashful Girl"; was it true?
Leo Tomlinson ..... for his good looks in a ROTC lieutenant's uniform.
Bob Tucker ..... a snappy end on the gridiron.
Nadene Turney ..... for being able to bend and bend in her acrobatic dancing.
Tommy Vincent ..... for being so adept with the paint brush—he drew the name of "Best Boy Artist."
Marilyn Wagener ..... for that turned-up nose and her line as Mrs. Petty, "A man! A man! A man!"
Bob Worley ..... the handsome ROTC major with the little black mustache.
Ray Wendel ..... another of those sighed-about boys.
Louise Young ..... for the way a pen in her hand seemed to be able to write anything.

I think you are really a wonderful person, (Error) sweet, and all of that stuff... I hope that you have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year in October and that it will be chock full of the good things of life. I can be still your friend even though you are such a stupid creature as to be married. I like your taste in cards and I like your taste in friendship. I will write lots more after Christmas.

Lots of love,

Coleman
